CAPS "Student Heros"

"This year I realized how important mental health is. CAPS was great in assisting me and guiding my mental development. My therapist has been very helpful and this is certainly a service that offers real value for people. Thank you so much for your help and your time. The work you do is very important. Our society needs to change and value personal fulfillment and mental health over money."

"Coming from a South Asian household, sexual health and alcohol and other drug education were taboo topics. My community has often omitted this information to impose their own idea of wellness, but that definition of wellness did not translate well for me in college. SHOP has given me tools to deconstruct the stigma around these topics and has equipped me with a strong definition of wellness and self-care. SHOP's peer-to-peer model of disseminating information made learning about sexual health and alcohol and drugs much more tangible and realistic to my needs. Navigating college, my wellness and mental health would have been impossible had it not been for SHOP's dedication and love for UCSC students. I am excited to empower my peers with the skills SHOP has given me!"
